

No image found or type unknown

Stop Cock for Kipps Apparatus

Sku : GE6169

www.geomatrixlabs.com

Description

In order to let air out of the apparatus, this stopcock may be opened. This will allow the liquid in the bottom chamber to climb through the retention plate into the middle chamber where it will react with the solid substance. This reaction produces gas, which can be extracted as needed through the stopcock.